

Bible Study resumes November 16. We meet Thursday mornings at 9:30 a.m. in the Schwab Center and look at Scripture passages on particular themes. This series, which runs six Thursdays, will look at women in the Bible and will look at the Wisdom Tradition, the story of Ruth and Naomi, and the Resurrection, as well as other Bible stories focusing on women. We will conclude December 28 with a look at the Incarnation passage from the Book of John, the Word Made Flesh.

We are looking at the Bible using the technique of visio divina and with the help of the sacred illuminations of the St. John's Bible, but you may bring any version of the Bible that you have. There is no charge; just show up Thursday mornings with your Bible. New members are welcome!

Please contact our pastoral associate, Tina Norton, for more information and to let her know you are coming (so we can have enough materials). We look forward to seeing you!
